Overview and Contact Information

The Department of Music regards the study of music as an artistic discipline that has an essential role in liberal arts education. Through courses in music history, theory, ethnomusicology, performance, and composition, the department cultivates growth of the individual by fostering creative, intellectual, and critical abilities.

The department offers a major and a minor in music. Students interested in studying music from a multi-disciplinary perspective to build bridges across departmental boundaries in a rigorous and structured manner may be interested in completing the Five College certificate in ethnomusicology (http://catalog.mtholyoke.edu/areas-study/ethnomusicology/). The certificate may be completed as a complement to any major or minor, even in overlapping fields.

Learning Goals

The Department of Music developed discipline-specific learning objectives based on the Mount Holyoke College learning goals. These objectives comprise the following:

- Synthesize information obtained through the study of music theory, ethnomusicology, music history, composition and performance, and achieve fluency with musical language in a range of styles and cultural contexts.
- Perform works of all periods with attention to performance practices of appropriate periods.
- Address the structure of a musical work with tools appropriate to its historical context.
- Understand the evolution of musical style and the changing roles of composers, performers, patrons and audience from the Middle Ages to the present.
- Increase familiarity with and facility in the use of primary materials for musico logical and/or theoretical research, as well as in the critical evaluation of published scholarship.
- Comprehend the prominent stylistic trends and compositional techniques of the 20th and 21st centuries, including an understanding of the relationships of such genres as popular music and jazz to the social contexts that helped produce and shape them.
- Realize the power of music to enhance or alter the content and structure of text or motion picture.
- Achieve musical awareness and critical perception through the integration of thinking about and performing music.
- Broaden musical interests to include non-Western repertoires in their respective cultural contexts.
- Encounter non-Western music through alternative methodologies and performance experiences which, in turn, inform the more traditional study of music.
- Use classical training to go beyond the printed page into folk traditions, learning to employ less familiar techniques that are traditional in the vast array of world musics.
- Discover the ways in which a Mount Holyoke music major might be important after graduation.
- Gain sufficient experience in music theory, history, composition and performance to qualify for graduate study.

Requirements for the Major

The music major is designed for students with a wide range of interests, backgrounds, and career goals. It is intended to provide a broad and varied acquaintance with theory, historical and cultural contexts, and literature of music as well as to develop skills in performance, analysis, and synthesis. The integration of creating, performing, and thinking about music fosters musical awareness and critical perception.

In order to declare a major, students must have already completed one four-credit course in the department.

A minimum of 40 credits:
As a prerequisite for MUSIC-231:

- MUSIC-100 Rudiments of Music
- or MUSIC-131 Basic Musicianship

MUSIC-231 Theory I 4

Two of the following three music history courses: 8

- MUSIC-281 History of Western Music I: Music to 1700
- MUSIC-282 History of Western Music II: Music from 1700 to 1900
- MUSIC-283 History of Western Music III: Music Since 1900

One ethnomusicology course 4

One music technology course 4

One additional music elective at any level 4

Two additional music electives at the 300 level 8

Performance Requirements:

- At least 4 credits of individual performance study
- At least 2 credits of ensembles
- 2 additional credits in either individual performance study or ensembles

Total Credits 40

Additional Specifications

- The electives, as well as additional courses above the 40 credits required, will be chosen carefully in consultation with the student’s advisor and will be customized to meet the individual student’s particular interests and goals.
- One of the 300-level music courses must be writing-intensive.
- Students with little or no keyboard experience are advised to study a keyboard instrument while completing required work in the department at the 100 and 200 levels.
- Demonstration of a level of keyboard proficiency that permits using a keyboard to assist in learning and demonstrating basic concepts.
- Independent study (MUSIC-295, MUSIC-395) is encouraged but does not count toward the major. A student wishing to pursue independent study that may lead to honors is encouraged to begin in the second semester of the junior year.
- Approval of the department chair is required for initial declaration of the major.
- For information on exemption procedures for any requirement, contact the Department of Music.

Requirements for any Special Major with a Music Component

MUSIC-231 Theory I 4

Two of the following three courses: 8

- MUSIC-281 History of Western Music I: Music to 1700
- MUSIC-282 History of Western Music II: Music from 1700 to 1900
- MUSIC-283 History of Western Music III: Music Since 1900

One music elective at any level 4

Total Credits 24

Additional Specifications

- Approval of the department chair is required for initial declaration of the special major with a music component. Students are required to have a music department faculty member among their advisors.

Requirements for the Minor

In order to declare a minor, students must have already completed one four-credit course in the department.

A minimum of 20 credits:

As a prerequisite for MUSIC-231:

- MUSIC-100 Rudiments of Music
- or MUSIC-131 Basic Musicianship

MUSIC-231 Theory I 4

One of the following three Music History courses: 4

- MUSIC-281 History of Western Music I: Music to 1700
- MUSIC-282 History of Western Music II: Music from 1700 to 1900
- MUSIC-283 History of Western Music III: Music Since 1900

4 additional credits in music at any level 4

4 additional credits in music at the 200 or 300 level 4

One music elective at the 300 level 4

Total Credits 20

Additional Specifications

- Approval of the department chair is required for initial declaration of the minor.
- If 200-level individual performance study is to be counted toward the minor, two semesters must be taken consecutively in the same instrument or in voice.
- Independent study (MUSIC-295, MUSIC-395) is encouraged but does not count toward the minor.

Teacher Licensure

Students interested in pursuing licensure in the field of music can combine their course work in music with a minor in education. In some instances course work in the major coincides with course work required for licensure; in other cases, it does not. Students wishing to pursue teacher licensure should consult the music department before the first semester. Further information about the minor in education is available in other sections of the catalog, or consult Ms. Lawrence in the psychology and education department.

Licensure also requires a formal application as well as passing scores on the Massachusetts Test of Educator Licensure (MTEL) in both the literacy component and the subject matter component. Copies of the test objectives for the MTEL are available in the music department and in the Department of Psychology and Education.
Course Advice

First-Year Students

Introductory classes in fundamentals, music history and literature, and composition are offered for students with little or no experience; those with more experience may be able to exempt prerequisites and enter directly into the music theory or music history course sequence.

First-year students interested in a music major or minor should take or exempt MUSIC-100 or MUSIC-131 to allow enrollment in MUSIC-231 in the spring semester of their first year. First-year students may also take MUSIC-102; individual performance study through the appropriate section of MUSIC-151; Ensembles; MUSIC-226, MUSIC-229, or a first-year seminar taught by Music faculty. Spring entrants should exempt MUSIC-100 when they arrive on campus, so that they may enroll in MUSIC-231.

Music Exemption Exams

Students who demonstrate a thorough knowledge of the rudiments of music will be exempted from the MUSIC-100 prerequisite for certain courses and from the MUSIC-100 requirement associated with individual performance studies (please see below). For information on exemption from other courses, please contact the department.

Course Offerings

100-level Courses

MUSIC-100 Rudiments of Music

Fall and Spring. Credits: 2

In this half-semester course students will become familiar with the elements of music notation (staves, clefs, pitch names, note and rest values) and with some of the basic skills necessary for college-level music instruction (e.g., construction and identification of scales, intervals, triads, and basic diatonic functions).

Applies to requirement(s): Meets No Distribution Requirement

T. Ng, D. Sanford, L. Schipull

Notes: Meets for only the first half of the semester.

MUSIC-102 Music and Technology

Fall and Spring. Credits: 4

It is now possible to record, manipulate, and compose music with a variety of powerful and flexible tools using the personal computer. Through reading, discussion, demonstration, listening sessions, technical tutorials and hands-on projects, we will explore the techniques, practices and aesthetics surrounding creative applications of current and emerging music technologies, including sound recording and editing, mixing, synthesis and music sequencing.

Applies to requirement(s): Humanities

T. Ciufio, J. Giles, J. Sibley-Schwartz

Restrictions: This course is limited to first-years and sophomores.

Advisory: Basic computer literacy (such as comfort with user interface navigation, file management, and editing commands) is required.

Notes: Not open to juniors or seniors in the first week of pre-registration.

MUSIC-103 History of Jazz

Spring. Credits: 4

This course will follow the origins and evolution of jazz from the late nineteenth century to the present, with emphases on prominent stylistic trends and significant individuals. Along with some analysis of the musical language jazz employs, the music will be examined in its relation to the social contexts that helped produce and shape it. The ability to read music is not a requirement for this course.

Applies to requirement(s): Humanities

D. Sanford

MUSIC-127 First Nights

Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4

We will examine five major musical works from the 17th to the 20th century. Orfeo (Monteverdi), Messiah (Handel), the Ninth Symphony (Beethoven), the Symphonie fantastique (Berlioz), and Le Sacre du printemps (Stravinsky). Using Thomas Kelly's book First Nights, recordings of modern performances, and selected readings, we will study how these works function as pieces of music and what makes them unique. By focusing on their premieres, we will place them in their cultural and social contexts, approaching them from the point of view of their first listeners. At the end of the course, we will jump into the 21st century by organizing and hosting premieres of works specifically composed for our class.

Applies to requirement(s): Humanities

Other Attribute(s): Speaking-Intensive, Writing-Intensive

MUSIC-128 The Hyperbolic World of Opera in 25 Episodes -- An Introduction to Western Classical Opera from the Renaissance to the Present Day

Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4

This course begins with the birth of opera at the end of the Renaissance Period, and ends with some of the most successful operas in the past decade. Our investigation includes operas in English, French, German, Italian and Russian. Alongside an introduction to the materials of opera, from vocal fachs, forms, and styles, to vocal virtuosity, the course situates opera as a cultural phenomenon by considering the unique set of historical, intellectual, social, political and economic conditions of each work of art. The course includes some opera projections; each one is preceded by an introduction of the period in which it was first performed and is followed by class discussion.

Applies to requirement(s): Humanities

T. Ng

MUSIC-131 Basic Musicianship

Fall. Credits: 4

Explores the ways in which sound is organized into musical structures. Topics include the physical properties of sound; the basic vocabulary of Western music (scales, key signatures, intervals, triads, rhythm, meter); and an introduction to musical form and analysis. Includes extensive practice in music reading, sight singing, ear training, and critical listening.

Applies to requirement(s): Humanities

D. Sanford, L. Schipull

Coreq: MUSIC-131L

Additional information about the Licensure Program, including application materials, can be found on the Teacher Licensure Program website (https://www.mtholyoke.edu/acad/teach/).
MUSIC-171 Topics in Music

MUSIC-171RM Topics in Music: 'Race in the American Musical'
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
The history of musical theater in the United States is bound up with race on multiple levels: from the problematic legacies of vaudeville and minstrelsy, to erasure, whitewashing, and nontraditional casting, to issues of genre and identity in pop, rock, and hip hop musicals. In this course, we will survey selected musical works in the history of musical theater from the perspective of race, moving from Hamilton to Show Boat, Porgy and Bess, South Pacific, West Side Story, and Rent, and others. Our guiding question will be: what is musical about race in the musical? How does the spectacle of the singing body, the longevity of the catchy show tune, and new modes of consumption and fandom via the web and social media affect the way Broadway's creators and audiences negotiate power, inequality, and representation?
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities; Multicultural Perspectives
Other Attribute(s): Speaking-Intensive
A. Mueller
Notes: The course will include student-moderated QAs with faculty in related disciplines, a field trip to New York to attend a Broadway production of a relevant musical, and will culminate in a student-led symposium and digital exhibition.

MUSIC-173 Performing Tate's Shell Shaker: Performance Issues of the World's First Chickasaw Opera
Spring. Credits: 4
This course represents some of the earliest attempts at addressing the difficulty of accessing information relating to the performance of music by Native American/Indigenous/American Indian composers and creators. The course has two principal components, a series of twelve public-facing panel discussions that will be co-presented by New England Public Media featuring experts in the field and a seminar where students can delve deeper into the issues raised and information gleaned together with artist in residence, Jerod Impichchaachaaha’ Tate. A range of performance issues including nomenclature, stylistic influences, sources, instrumentation, diction, translation and performance practice will be discussed. Participants in the course will have the opportunity to pose their questions to the panel before the general public during the public-facing panel discussions.

MUSIC-199 Sonic Vanguard: Music in Contemporary Practice
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 1
In a time of increasing cross pollination between music and other disciplines, this course explores the work of some of the most active creators and scholars of our time, and some of the myriad influences that continue to impact their work today. E.g. Cerise Jacobs, Librettist and Producer working with animatronics and virtual reality. Structured as a mix of lecture and seminar formats, students will have the opportunity to interact with some of the musicians/artists/scholars featured, and engage in class discussions on the issues raised by the people, readings and works encountered. These encounters would thereby enable a conversation around turning points in the professional lives of the guest speakers, and the choices that influenced the course of their careers.
Applies to requirement(s): Meets No Distribution Requirement
T. Ng
Notes: Repeatable.

200-Level Courses

MUSIC-202 Electronic and Computer Music
Spring. Credits: 4
This course will explore a range of approaches and techniques involved in the creation of electronic and computer music, including aspects of form and development, analog and digital synthesis and signal processing, basic computer music programming, and audio recording and production techniques. The focus of this seminar will be a series of exercises and creative projects that develop aesthetic and technical abilities. This creative work will be supported and enriched by selected reading and listening examples, as well as ongoing technical labs and demonstrations.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
T. Ciufo
Prereq: MUSIC-102.

MUSIC-203 Acoustic Ecology and Sonic Art
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
The field of acoustic ecology is particularly concerned with how we create, interpret and interact with the sounds around us and how imbalances in the soundscape may affect human health and the natural world. Through reading, discussion, listening sessions, independent research, and hands-on projects, we will examine the broad interdisciplinary fields of acoustic ecology and sonic art. We will engage historical, conceptual, and aesthetic aspects of sound as a cultural, environmental, and artistic medium, with an emphasis on listening, psychoacoustics, soundscape studies, field recording and soundscape composition. We will question predominate ideas regarding the relationships between location, environment, sound, silence, music, and noise, and test these ideas through individual and group research as well as hands-on sonic art projects.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
T. Ciufo
Restrictions: Course limited to sophomores, juniors and seniors

MUSIC-215 Intermediate Composition
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
Students will explore a number of musical styles and approaches in the process of creating their own extended works, with the possibility of performances at the end of the semester.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
D. Sanford
Prereq: MUSIC-100 or MUSIC-131.

MUSIC-220 Music and Film
Fall. Credits: 4
This course is for all who stay to the end of the credits, purchase soundtracks, and argue over who should have won the Oscar for Best Score, along with anyone else interested in the undervalued importance of music to the general effect of a motion picture. We will explore and discuss the myriad ways in which these two media interact. The course will focus on classic scores by Herrmann, Morricone, and Williams, as well as the uses of pre-existing music in films of Kubrick and Tarantino. Crosslisted as: FMT-230MU
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
D. Sanford
Prereq: MUSIC-100, MUSIC-102, MUSIC-103 or MUSIC-131, or one Film Studies/Film, Music, Theater course.
MUSIC-222 Music and Animation
Spring. Credits: 4
This course offers a critical introductory survey of music and animation from the silent era to the digital age. After establishing a joint vocabulary for describing music and animated film, we will explore their interaction in shorts and feature films by studios like Disney, Pixar, and Ghibli, television shows, video games, music videos, and experimental animation. Our focus will be on audio-visual media that thematizes music, such as the Silly Symphonies short "Music Land," Hayao Miyazaki’s "Mimi wo Sumaseba" (Whisper of the Heart), and the video game Guitar Hero. Final projects can range from critical-analytical papers and video essays to original audio-visual creative work.
Crosslisted as: FMT-230MA
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
A. Mueller
Prereq: At least one 4-credit course in Music, or one 4-credit course in Film Media Theater.

MUSIC-226 World Music
Fall. Credits: 4
This course is a survey of selected musical traditions from different parts of the world, including Africa, Indonesia, Indian, the Caribbean, and the United States. The course adopts an ethnomusicological approach that explains music as a cultural phenomenon, and explores the social and aesthetic significance of musical traditions within their respective historical and cultural contexts. It examines how musical traditions change over time, and how such changes reflect and relate to social and political changes within a given society. Weekly reading and listening assignments provide the basis for class discussions.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities; Multicultural Perspectives

MUSIC-229 African Popular Music
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
This course examines selected genres and their relationships to the political and social dynamics of their respective national origins. Regional examples like highlife, soukous, chimurenga, and Fela Anikulapo-Kuti’s Afro-beat will provide the basis for assessing the significance of popular music as a creative response to the African colonial and postcolonial environment. The course also discusses African hip-hop music by exploring how indigenous cultural tropes have provided the basis for its local appropriation. Themes explored include music and identity; music, politics, and resistance; interaction of local and global elements; and political significance of musical nostalgia. Students’ final projects for this class could be in form of live performances or paper presentations focusing on any genre or aspect of African popular music.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
B. Omojola

MUSIC-231 Theory I
Spring. Credits: 4
Studies diatonic harmony (part-writing, inversions, harmonization, figured bass and non-harmonic tones), continues with seventh chords, and begins the exploration of chromaticism. Includes analysis, ear-training, solfege, and keyboard harmony.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
L. Schipull
Prereq: MUSIC-100 or MUSIC-131. Coreq: MUSIC-231L.

MUSIC-242 Conducting I

MUSIC-283 History of Western Music III: Music Since 1900
Fall. Credits: 4
The third in a three-semester survey of Western music history, Music 283 examines the cultures of art music in Europe and the Americas from 1900 to the present day, focusing on the evolution of styles and genres and the changing roles of composers, performers, and audiences.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
Other Attribute(s): Writing-Intensive
A. Mueller
Prereq: MUSIC-100 or MUSIC-131.

300-Level Courses

MUSIC-315 Advanced Composition
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
Students will explore a number of musical styles and approaches in the process of creating their own extended works, with the possibility of performances a the end of the semester.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
D. Sanford
Prereq: MUSIC-215 and MUSIC-231.
Notes: Repeatable for credit.

MUSIC-321 Advanced Interdisciplinary Topics
MUSIC-321AM Advanced Interdisciplinary Topics: 'Art, Music and the Brain'
Fall. Credits: 4
Art and music are a part of all human cultures. Is there something about the human brain that drives us to paint and sing? We will examine how the brain simultaneously processes different aspects of visual and auditory stimuli, ask how this processing may affect the way we do art and music, and explore where these phenomena may occur in the brain. As we engage in discussion and hands-on activities, we will discover the commonalities between the arts and the sciences including practice, experimentation, exploration, innovation, and creativity.

M. Breen, A. Mueller
Restrictions: This course is limited to seniors.
Instructor permission required.
Prereq: At least 8 credits at the 200 level in Psychology, Neuroscience and Behavior, Art History, or Music.

MUSIC-332 Theory II
Fall. Credits: 4
This course continues the study of harmonic practices in the 18th and 19th centuries, including modulation, chromatically altered chords, and an introduction to selected 20th- and 21st century techniques. Includes part-writing, analysis, ear training, solfege, and keyboard harmony.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
L. Schipull
Prereq: MUSIC-231. Coreq: MUSIC-332L.

MUSIC-334 Music Analysis
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
The course begins with an overview of the ways music analysis informs, and is informed by, other disciplines of musical inquiry: history, criticism, etc. The course culminates in an application of various analytic approaches to a small group of related works within the Western art music tradition.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
Other Attribute(s): Writing-Intensive

Prereq: MUSIC-231.

MUSIC-371 Topics in Music
This seminar is designed to increase familiarity with and facility in the use of primary materials for musicological/ethnomusicological and/ or theoretical research, as well as in the critical evaluation of published scholarship. Engagement with a shared topic at the outset of the semester provides the context from which each student fashions an independent project. Oral presentations and active discussion are integral to the course.

MUSIC-371CH Topics in Music: 'Music and Childhood in the Western Tradition'
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
This course examines significant moments in the history of children as creators, performers, consumers, and subjects of music, with a focus on Western Europe and the United States. From Mozart to Michael Jackson, medieval psalmody to playground games and beyond, we will survey the enlisting of children, childhood, and the childlike across a range of musical genres and pedagogical, aesthetic, and cultural-political agendas. For their final project, students may work with a historical artifact of children's musical culture, or research a local children's music program or ensemble.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities

Prereq: 8 credits in classroom Music courses including at least 4 credits at the 200 level or above.

MUSIC-371EM Topics in Music: 'Electronic and Experimental Music'
Not Scheduled for This Year. Credits: 4
This course examines significant moments of disruption found at the intersection of particular technologies and emergent musical practices. We will explore a range of electronic and experimental music approaches, read case studies and other influential texts, as well as engaging the sonic outcomes and aesthetic / philosophical implications of these developments. We will further explore and test the potential promise, hype and challenges posed by these emergent music practices through hands-on labs and creative projects.
Applies to requirement(s): Humanities
T. Ciufo
Prereq: MUSIC-231, and MUSIC-281, MUSIC-282, or MUSIC-283.
MUSIC-374 Advanced Seminar in Ethnomusicology

Spring. Credits: 4

Designed for music and non-music majors, this advanced seminar examines core theoretical and methodological issues in ethnomusicology and the debates that have shaped its practice since its origins in the early twentieth century as comparative musicology. Drawing on musical traditions from different parts of the world and supplemented by workshops conducted by visiting professional musicians, the course explores the interdisciplinary approaches that inform how ethnomusicologists study the significance of music "in" and "as" culture. Topics covered will include ethnographic methods, the intersection of musicological and anthropological perspectives, the political significance of musical hybridity, applied ethnomusicology, and sound studies.

Performance Studies

Official registration for all performance courses may only be done after successful completion of the audition process, at the audition students should be prepared to demonstrate their level of vocal or instrumental proficiency. All performance study is for academic credit. (See MUSIC-100 requirement below.)

The Department of Music offers private instruction in performance studies at three levels for areas listed. Students studying privately are encouraged to elect the 50-minute lesson but may, at their own option or when advised by the instructor, enroll for the 30-minute lesson.

Students will be placed according to the following order of priority: declared music majors and minors; first-, second-, and third-year students who demonstrate proficiency on their instrument at or above an upper elementary level, with order of placement determined by extent of experience and quality of performance; first-, second-, and third-year students who wish to begin their study of an instrument or voice, provided they enroll concurrently in MUSIC-100 or MUSIC-131; fourth-year students, with order of placement determined by extent of experience and quality of performance. Senior beginners must enroll concurrently in MUSIC-100 or MUSIC-131.

Additional fees are charged for performance study. Applied music fees, grants-in-aid, and fee exemptions are described in the Tuition and Fees chapter (http://catalog.mtholyoke.edu/tuition-fees-financial-aid-fellowships/tuition-fees/#otherfeestext). No refund of fee after tenth academic day of classes. For fees, please see the department website (http://www.mtholyoke.edu/acad/music/performance/).

Students enroll with Mount Holyoke performance faculty if the instrument they wish to study is offered by the department. Enrollment is limited according to teacher availability, and permission of the instructor is required. Please consult the department for audition dates and times.

Music 100 Requirement

Because the Department of Music believes students enrolled in individual performance studies should have a thorough knowledge of the rudiments of music, enrollment will be contingent on exemption from or concurrent enrollment in MUSIC-100 or MUSIC-131 regardless of whether a student is enrolled at Mount Holyoke or another Five College institution. The MUSIC-100 Exemption Examination is in two parts. In order to pass the exam, students must achieve scores of at least 75 percent on both the written and aural portions.

100 Level Performance Study

Successful completion of, or exemption from, MUSIC-100 allows up to 8 academic credits of individual performance study on one instrument at the 100 level.

200 Level Performance Study

Following successful completion of 8 credits of performance study at the 100 level on one instrument, the student automatically advances to study at the 200 level, for which there are no credit limitations. Students enrolled in study at the 200 level must participate in at least one public performance per semester. Earlier entry into the 200 level is with permission of instructor.

300 Level Performance Study

Usually taken only in the senior year. Students may advance to the 300 level of performance studies upon completion of MUSIC-332, one history course at the 200 level, recommendation of the instructor, and permission of the department chair. Four credits are granted for each semester of performance study at the 300 level. Students enrolled in one semester of study at the 300 level will be required to prepare a half-recital or its equivalent. Students enrolled in a full year of study at the 300 level must prepare one full recital program or its equivalent. ("Equivalent": two half-recitals, or one-half recital plus other significant public performance.)

More detailed information on performance study at the 300 level is available from the Department of Music office.
